LIGHTS – CAMERA – CHAOS!

Rossmore, between Beverly and 3rd, has become a backlot for motion picture and television production.

The increase in automobile and truck traffic during the last few years wasn't bad enough, but lately has been compounded by a bevy of mobile and parked equipment consisting of more automobiles, trucks, trailers, tractors, dressing rooms, honey wagons, etc., etc., etc.

Our family has lived in the same Rossmore residence since 1960. It has now become a fitful and hazardous challenge to enter or depart from our own driveway and make it to the office, grocery, or Saint Brendan mass.

By the by, Mr. David E. Ryu, since you are our councilmember, Council District Four, why not witness this traffic tumor firsthand? Ride over and talk about it sometime – if you can bob and weave your course to our fettered driveway.

On a concluding personal note, I've spent more than a modicum of time writing and producing motion pictures and television in studios and on local locations – even on Larchmont and Rossmore – but there are degrees.

Sincerely,

Andrew J. Fenady
